rpg maker mv - emotional music pack

Great music assets! The composer has more albums finished and hoping they hit steam soon. Definitely a must have for your collection.. Great dlc for making those important moments in your game have a bit more inflection than what you could normally get through the base music. If you can get it on sale I'd say it's a must grab other wise I'd say weigh weather or not you need that extra bit of inflection.

As a note however if you get this or any other dlc after you start a project you'll need to access the folder in which the dlc is saved to (normally under steamapps, common folder, RPG maker MV, dlc folder.) Then find the dlc you downloaded and copy over everything, so for this instance, everything from the OGG file, found in the emotional music folder, into your games music folder(under audio, bgm) You may need to close Rpg maker and restart it if so then be sure to save before you do.. The main reason I bought this pack over the others was because there was a YouTube video that contained a few samples. Other DLC music developers should consider doing the same. How can they expect us to pay blindly when we have no idea about the quality and whether we like them or not?

Regarding this pack specifically, there are some repeating songs, and they add a good emotional atmosphere to the game.. The music in this pack is absolutely beautiful. When I heard some samples I was considering buying it even if I wasn't going to use it in my game and instead just to listen to. I have listened through all the songs three times now and I absolutely love them. AMAZING!
